An increasing number of men who were circumcised as infants are today reversing some of the damage caused by their circumcisions; the vast majority using non-surgical methods, by themselves, painlessly and inexpensively.

The National Organization of Restoring Men (NORM) is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization for self-help & support of circumcised men. By email, telephone, and at local meetings, information about foreskin restoration techniques and other circumcision-related matters is shared openly and honestly without obligation or intimidation between men, regardless of their sexual orientation.

Regaining a fuller range of male sexual sensation and a natural appearance is possible. This time, the choice is yours.

45% of male infants are now left intact and this number is growing. Join the new cultural NORM!
